Gerald S. Curtis, a member of the Racquet and Tennis Club, who prior to the war was for several years an annual European tourist, tells a new story about the experience of Calvin Demarest when the latter went to Paris in 1911. "I saw," said he, "Cassignol and Demarest as opponents in games of 250 points in one of the Parisian academies, and on five successive night Cassignol won the bank and ran the game out from the spot. Many Americans who were in Paris went to the academy to see Demarest play. During five nights all they saw him do was make five losing banks."
